

Questions for Homegroups

---

1 Samuel 5-6

(These questions rely more heavily than usual on the interpretive keys offered in the sermon. Please listen to or read this to help you.)

- These two chapters are about the Philistines, their god Dagon, and their attitude to the ark of God. Discuss how these ancient events might have relevance to us today?
- The Philistines initially think that they have defeated both Israel and their God. Plot how they come to learn otherwise. Do you think our modern society thinks that it has defeated, overcome or superseded the Christian God? Are there signs today that this is not true?
- The Philistines slowly come to a vague understanding of how they need to treat the God of Israel. What are the main elements of this? In what ways are they right and in what ways are they misguided?
- Today's world is full of people who think in one way or another like the Philistines in these chapters. How can we as Christians help them to see the truth about Jesus?

Questions for Homegroups

---

1 Samuel 5-6

(These questions rely more heavily than usual on the interpretive keys offered in the sermon. Please listen to or read this to help you.)

- These two chapters are about the Philistines, their god Dagon, and their attitude to the ark of God. Discuss how these ancient events might have relevance to us today?
- The Philistines initially think that they have defeated both Israel and their God. Plot how they come to learn otherwise. Do you think our modern society thinks that it has defeated, overcome or superseded the Christian God? Are there signs today that this is not true?
- The Philistines slowly come to a vague understanding of how they need to treat the God of Israel. What are the main elements of this? In what ways are they right and in what ways are they misguided?
- Today's world is full of people who think in one way or another like the Philistines in these chapters. How can we as Christians help them to see the truth about Jesus?

Questions for Homegroups

---

1 Samuel 5-6

(These questions rely more heavily than usual on the interpretive keys offered in the sermon. Please listen to or read this to help you.)

- These two chapters are about the Philistines, their god Dagon, and their attitude to the ark of God. Discuss how these ancient events might have relevance to us today?
- The Philistines initially think that they have defeated both Israel and their God. Plot how they come to learn otherwise. Do you think our modern society thinks that it has defeated, overcome or superseded the Christian God? Are there signs today that this is not true?
- The Philistines slowly come to a vague understanding of how they need to treat the God of Israel. What are the main elements of this? In what ways are they right and in what ways are they misguided?
- Today's world is full of people who think in one way or another like the Philistines in these chapters. How can we as Christians help them to see the truth about Jesus?