A FORMER East Oxford primary school is set to be transformed into a church and community centre.

The Victorian building in Hertford Street has been bought by Magdalen Road Church to house its growing flock as well as offering space for local groups to meet

PLANS: Building will house expanding flock and be open to community use too for the building. Father Phil Ritchie, the vicar of St Mary and St John Church, said: "I am delighted that we have been able to pass this historic building on to a church that is also committed to and embedded in the East Oxford community."

"Magdalen Road Church, like the Hertford Street building, became part of the local landscape at a ditions of sale and trustees turned down offers from developers in favour of the local church. Magdalen Road Church's vision for the building is to not only provide the church with a new and larger home but continue to provide facilities to serve the community.

For the last 12 years the church has been meeting on Sunday
